

The DEKALB Alumni Association

Who We Are:

We are an association of former employees from the various companies that were part of the DEKALB Corporation, and other interested individuals. Over the years our parent company has operated under various names including the DeKalb Agricultural Association - which subsequently became DEKALB AgResearch, and more recently, DEKALB Genetics Corporation. Affectionately referred to by many as "the AG", our company is best known for its leading role in the development of hybrid corn, sorghum, poultry and swine and for the world famous "winged ear" logo. Membership in DEKALB Alumni Association (DAA) is open to all former employees. The greatest concentration of our members resides in DeKalb County, Illinois, where the progenitor to our company began in the early 1900's. In keeping with the company's nationwide footprint, DAA's membership is spread across the U.S.
